

Chamber World 'Reluctantly' Support Flat Income Tax Rate

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce has announced a bill will "reluctantly" support a flat rate income tax measure, and will apply uniformly to corporations and individuals, as a last resort in solving a possible financial crisis in the state.

William J. Crowley, executive vice president of Northern Illinois Gas Company, Aurora, and president of the Illinois Rate Chamber, made the announcement at a press conference earlier this week.

Crowley noted that the Chamber endorsed Governor-elect Richard Ogilvie's plans to increase government efficiency and regulatory control, and has plans to attempt to secure additional federal funds with fewer restrictions.

Crowley said that despite the fact that after maximum utilization of all state and local revenue sources, it appears there still may be a need for substantial amounts of additional revenue.

The event, despite a long-standing policy of complete opposition to a flat income tax in Illinois, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce reluctantly would support enactment of a flat rate income tax with certain limitations.

Crowley listed the limitations, saying that the tax should be at the lowest possible rate to produce sufficient revenue to meet minimum revenue requirements. This should be determined after an exhaustive economic and legislative review.

"Apply the same rate to corporations and individuals... be served at a flat similar rate to the federal... convenience and economy in administration... Crowley further said that the Chamber would not minimize the possibility of the rate being applied to non-conventional grounds.

He said that any attempt to alter personal or real estate income through an income tax is unfair to the taxpayer. State Constitution limits the power to remove many tax incentives.

developed by the legislature could result in a starting point for the convention's deliberations... the convention developed an improved or modified acceptable proposal.

DOCTOR SAYS

Treatment of Urethritis Must Be Started Early

W. G. BRADSTREET, M.D.

A mother writes that her son, 14, has urethritis in both eyes. He has had three hemorrhages in one eye in the last two months. The doctor found the eye so stop the bleeding. This mother wants to know what caused this trouble, whether there is a cure for it and what the final outcome will be.

Urethritis is an inflammatory disease of the layer of blood just inside the white of the eyeball. It is often referred to as the white of the eye. It is always caused by bacteria, usually gonorrhea, which must be treated early in the course of the disease if it is to be successful.

Our daughter, 8, is blind in one eye. She was born with it. It was probably caused by a birth injury. The eye doctor says that she has a posterior synechia. What does this mean? Can anything be done for this condition?

And There Are More...

By Paul Hopp

Last week this column mentioned some of the extracurricular activities at St. Viator. In order not to miss any organization, here are the remainder.

Perhaps one of the most charged departments at St. Viator is the band. Under the direction of Richard Collins, it is in its third year of recognition of student achievement.

An attempt was made in previous years to be refused to get the ground.

The band has been steadily increasing in membership. Although strong in some parts and weak in others, it shows great promise. It has presented two concerts for this year.

In basic function, it is to play at any school function, in addition to supporting any concerns of the school.

Another organization that varies in strength is the Debate Club. Pledged with lack of participants, it operates on three levels, each varying.

In moderation are Brian Owen Sullivan, and Glen Lawrence Lentz. C.S.V. in purpose is to teach the power of speech. Speech is presented to correct, to compel. (Ralph Waldo Emerson)

An important organization in any school is Audio Visual. Called DAVI

Lalique, His Art a Tribute to Nature

BY MARY BRUCE

In every field of the creative arts there is usually one name that commands respect and is sought after most avidly by the advanced collector.

When Rene Lalique brought his glass to the height of development in the 1920s during the period of the Art Nouveau movement, little did he realize that plates bearing his name would be one of the most desirable possessions of the 1960s.

Lalique was born in Ay, France in 1868. He studied in Paris and London, but concentrated on silversmith's work and metals and became very well-known and successful in designing and creating fashionable jewelry for the well-known women and actresses of the times.

His interest led him to glass and rock crystal until finally in 1909 he opened a factory in Paris. He was approached at this time by the Coty perfume company to make perfume bottles and he set a trend in that line that is still followed today.

IT WAS at a factory in Alsace that he reached his peak and produced some of his best work in the architectural field. He installed decorated glass doors. He designed and produced glass windows for churches and houses that have a luminous quality derived from the play of light and shadow.

Lalique shows his design from his immediate surroundings—nature or many cases to nature to copy the flowing lines of fish, birds, shells and all animals in motion. He tried to capture the grace and purity of the human form in dance and movement as witnessed by the figures on his glassware, vases, mirrors, bottles and clocks.

Many of his pieces combine blowing, cutting, frosting and etching to form the subtle frosted effect and the luminous qualities of the glass. Deep reliefs were highlighted by contrasting the treatment of the glass with a rough or smooth, matte or polished surface.

LALIQUE died in 1945 leaving behind a vast amount of beautiful glassware and a tradition for elegance that is carried on by his son Marc, a talented technician and designer and his granddaughter Marie-Claude Lalique who is responsible for the fantastically popular prices that were produced in 1965.

When the company decided on an annual plate, they produced about 2,000 and Marie-Claude used her delightful talent to capture the grace and fluidity of the animal kingdom. The 1965 plate produced in such limited quantities was the Deux Oiseaux or Two Birds. This plate is rumored to be worth over $1,000 to some collectors.

The 1966 plate is the Danseuse, the 1967 the Fish Ballet, and the 1968 the Guelle Folle. All of these are designed by Marie-Claude and issued in limited numbers of 5,000, so one can see how desirable these annual plates have become.

But decide for yourself about the desirability, grace and beauty of this glassware which is still being produced and sold today. The Perini and Robinson Jewelers of Arlington Heights have a display of crystal, many plates, crystal animals and a beautifully decorated two-piece table setting.

Since every piece of Lalique is signed, there will never be any doubt as to the authenticity of your collection.

DePaul Shoot Past Hawks; Ruess, Harper Win Streak

By George Hulse
By Dave Gorman

Harper College's Hawks took on a hot-shooting DePaul University tonight but night came up on the short end of the final score by a 95-77 margin.

The loss was the ninth of the season as the Hawks were only the third team in their first 12 games.

THE HAWKS were out of control both on the floor and the charity stripe as the Blue Demons made good on 34 of 77 free shots and hit on 27 of 32 from the field for an overall percentage of 40.5 while the Hawks connected on only 26 of 89 free shots and 21 of 36 from the floor for a 27.5 mark.

The Blue Demons also hit the boards hard and won a 49-36 edge in rebounding, most of which came off the offensive boards.

Harper fought an uphill battle against DePaul from the first half jump ball as the Hawks built up a quick 10-0 lead before the Hawks could counter with free throws by Bill Kenan, Tom Kerasiutis, and Lyle Kinsman. However, DePaul picked up a pair of quick goals to extend the bulge to four points at 7-3 before Kenan countered with a jumper from the key and Kenan's DePaul lead to 11-3.

Kenan kept the Hawks within 10 points, however, giving them lead to 6-6. Bob Wilson of DePaul was 1-2. Wilson, Tom Kinsman and Harry Sheline scored for the Hawks while Kenan and Kerasiutis each claimed a dozen rebounds while Sheline pulled up.

FOLLOWING Kerasiutis' jumper, DePaul took the lead back up to four with a free throw, however, guard Jim Melton was fouled in the process and called in a free throw, as did Kenan's moments later. Unfortunately,

DePaul got three tries on the charity line and made them all, then made a basket by Billie before the other starting Hawk, guard Mike Drexler, canned a 20-footer from outside to cut the DePaul lead to 12-8.

In the next two minutes the Hawks extended their lead to 4, as Kenan and forward Dick Meiner were able to provide the only Hawk score with a pair apiece. During the fourth minute DePaul's pair of free throws went to help the DePaul 14-10 but Kenan's 14-point bulge from the field in the half as the scoreboard showed only three baskets and a pair of foul shots in the process.

The Hawks could manage only three baskets and a pair of foul shots in the process as Meinen hit a 20-footer and DePaul built up a 20-10 lead. Dave Wiley came out a jumper from the key and Kenan got the ball of the charity.

The Hawks cut the lead to 11 on three charities, one by Kenan and two by Drexler. Kenan, Wilson and Wiley scored baskets. Coach John Kenan used a new tactic, using a 15-foot jumper by Kenan as a backcourt shot. Kenan's jumper was on the defense. However, the Hawks shot the 15-foot jumper and led at the half 40-15. After Wiley pulled up a jumper from the key and Kenan's DePaul lead to 40-15.

GREENBERG came out of the locker room looking like they might stand a chance to win the game. DePaul took the lead to eight with a press and some free throws. Kenan, Wilson and Wiley scored baskets. Meinen guided in a 20-footer from the key and Kenan's DePaul lead to 40-15.

St. Viator, jumping off to a 12-point lead at the end of the first quarter, went on to win 78-53 with Jeff Griffin leading the Lions in 15 points and Jack Bradley for 14 while Kenan had down 19 rebounds.

Griffin jumped off to a 1-0 lead on a Chas. V. free throw. This was the only time the Griffin led as the Lions hit for three quick points on a field goal by Errol and a free throw by Greg Doyle.

Mike Clonk made a charity shot for the Cyclones, but Bradley began a long shot from the corner, Errol hit two free throws and Bradley got another field goal as the Lions expanded their lead to 10-2.

Knights, Blue Demons Fall Short on Rockford Mats

By Jerry Jenkins

The variety DePaul took on the night was not the best. The Blue Demons and the Prospects fell short in the first half, but brought up the fight in the second half. Kenan's jumper was on the defense. However, the Hawks shot the 15-foot jumper and led at the half 40-15.

AN INDIVIDUAL first place with 100 to 100 points, a second round, a third, four, and fourth round.

Christmas Comes Year Round at Opportunity Center

By Joe Walsh

Approximately 10 tons of canned foods were received by the Northwest Opportunity Center, 3411 Kinloch Rd., Rolling Meadows, over the Christmas holidays for distribution to needy families.

Christmas packages, though, are not the sole or even main purpose of the opportunity center. It came to help low-income families in the northwest, who find better jobs, housing and education.

Other services provided include free legal service, emergency food and clothing and a medical referral service.

"NEVER a few percent of the low-income families under $4,000 per year income," said McDaniel.

Director Don Maldonado

The center works closely with the Illinois Employment Service to find better jobs for job seekers.

They also work with the Chicago Housing Authority to find housing for low-income families.

Harper Faculty Panel Reaches No Verdict In Teacher Dismissal

A Harper Junior College faculty committee investigating the controversial dismissal of a college teacher reached no conclusion yesterday.

The group was checking in to the charges by Edward Kalish that he was not retained to teach next year because of the school's president, Robert J. Hansen.

The investigating committee reached no conclusion because "no definite information" was presented to it, its statement said yesterday.

Model Home Is Burglarized

Arlington Heights police are searching for the burglar who stole a model home last Saturday at a new development in the northwest suburban area's new town.

Because of the two previous burglaries, the police said, it is believed that the burglar is a professional burglar who is working in the area.

The amount of trash in garbage cans may not be a very accurate indicator of the amount of garbage in the area.

According to figures compiled in 1940, it was believed that the average household disposed of two pounds of garbage a person each day.

The cost of trash disposal has risen sharply since then, the "garbage index" in Des Plaines has risen only a few cents, while in other areas it has risen as much as 245 percent.

However, Arlington Heights residents either are better able to dispose of their trash or are better able to dispose of their trash.

Two Buffalo Grove homes are being built on a 10-acre site in the northwest suburban area.

Home, Apartment Damaged by Fires

By Gary Shiffman

Two separate fire yesterday damaged an apartment in Rolling Meadows and a home in Arlington Heights.

A short circuit in an electrical outlet was the apparent cause of a fire that raged through a Rolling Meadows apartment at 4032 Arbor Dr.

The fire was under control by the time firefighters arrived, but it had done considerable damage to the apartment.

Police Officer Dennis Harper and Andrew Herbert, who were patrolling nearby, ran to the building and kicked in the apartment door.

But intense heat, which threatened to flare the building, was the reason the fire was not put out.

IT WAS LATER learned that the tenants of the apartment were not home when the fire started.

Dog Days in January, Yet

Two dogs found their way into Arlington Heights police last Sunday for two different reasons.

One dog crashed here on the morning when a get a dog was evacuated although the dog was confined to the one apartment in the building.

The dog was cultured and removed by police who returned its ownership to Jerry McDougall. He said the dog got loose while he was working a nearby service station.

McDougall said he was allowing the animal to run loose in the village. He is a 100 Arlington Heights Rd.

appear in Arlington Heights Circuit Court Feb. 26.

Another dog was struck by a auto last yesterday at S. W. and Evergreen.

Edward R. Cregar of Elmhurst said he could not find his dog in time to avoid the animal, which started in front of his house.

The dog's owner, 13-year-old Judith Lasher, 102 S. Evergreen, crashed the pet in the street.

Computer May Call You Before Long

By Joe Walsh

A computer may be calling your home in the next three to five years, according to Stewart Grant, Arlington Heights director of finance.

The village is considering a new type of water meter which would be linked to the computer through the home's telephone line.

To get a reading on the amount of water used, the meter would be linked to the computer through the home's telephone line.

The village cannot afford to charge more for the water than it is worth, Grant said.

He said there also is a question of who would pay for the new system.

Present billing permits no index of the price of the water meter, which is a one-time charge.

On refinements, Grant said he doubts most of the village could afford to charge more for the water than it is worth.

Wheeling high schools, and yet Arlington is still number one. Prospect is still in the top six, and Forest View and Wheeling are still among the top teams around. Des Plaines Garden Club Float Takes First

First prize at the most unusual float was given to the Des Plaines Garden Club in a parade commemorating the bicentennial year of the State of Illinois.

The float was constructed over a mechanical golf cart carrying a chicken wire frame in the shape of a basket. Thousands of green paper napkins were tucked in for the base and white ones formed the basket. Bouffant, mesh paper flowers in a rainbow of hues were placed in the basket, with an enormous red bow forming the handle.

The award was listed in the January-February issue of Garden Glories, official publication of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc.

LEFT—Dan Dailey opened the year 1968 for Pheasant Run playing his familiar role in "The Old Couple." It was the most successful play of the 1968 season.

Twenty Stars to Appear In Dinner-Theaters 6th Year

BY RICHARD CRABB

The Pheasant Run Playhouse at St. Charles opens in 1969 year next Tuesday, Jan. 14, with the durable Moss Hart comedy, "Light Up The Sky" starring Anne Jeffreys. It marks the beginning of the sixth year for the dinner-theater, the first performance having been presented in 1964.

Miss Jeffreys is to be the first of 20 stars who will come to Pheasant Run during the year. The last-off assignment last year fell to durable Dan Dailey in "The Old Couple." Dailey had even before his "Chances" assignment just ahead of his previous assignment of the play "I, Spy." Dyan Cannon in "Ninety-Days' Mistress" and Leonard Nimoy in a "View of a Small Planet," proved to be the last of the stars in 1968.

When Producer Carl Sutin Jr. launched Pheasant Run the summer of 1964, a lot of Chicago theater critics thought the idea of a year-round "teat" theater in the Fox River Valley was top flight but wondered what Pheasant Run would do for audiences in the dead of winter.

In 1968 Pheasant Run proved that winter can be the best time of the year. Most of the year the St. Charles Playhouse presented stars and well-known plays in identical runs of 20 days.

Did a play running in the spring, mid-summer or during the harvest season draw the best audience? The answer is that none of them did. That honor went to Dan Dailey in "The Old Couple" which had its Pheasant Run premiere on Jan. 13.

"We did have some good things going for us in the first play of the year. Dan Dailey came directly from the Schubert Theatre in Chicago's loop where he'd won some 560 worth of clothing from the Zag department store, 727 W. Golf, Des Plaines.

Police said Julius P. Puentes, 28, was stopped by Zare security guards and left the store with the merchandise. Another man who was with Puentes reportedly fled in a 1962 Plymouth.

Puentes' Circuit Court date was set for Jan. 20. After posting his $1,000 bond, Puentes was picked up by Chicago police carrying with a theft of clothing from Goodbrand department store at Chicago Ave. and Ashland.

Keating co-starred with the veteran actor Jackie Cohagen in "Make A Million" and Woody Woodberry starred in a sell-out run of "Send Me No Flowers." Pamela Mason made her Chicago-area stage debut with her daughter, Portland, in "The Pleasure of His Company." Fabian in "Blind" and John Caridine in "Catch Me If You Can," Julia Mearns in "Wait Until Dark," Deborah Kirby in "Crucial Choice," Stephanie Powers in "Safari For Hermann Goetz and Sander Szabo in "Dear Charlie," Larry Hagan in "The Golden Fleece" and Peggy Ann Garner and Anthony Quinn in "Auntie Hannah" rounded out the year. All plays were comedies except "Fie!" and "Wait Until Dark."

Area actors made up the supporting stars, and the popular Bill Morye was featured in 13 of the shows. David Morrison and Jerry Ferrall shared directing duties, and Morrison served as designer.

The Pheasant Run Playhouse Children's Theatre continued to present popular children's ventures on Sunday afternoons. The first presented three Sunday afternoons dance concerns featuring the Illinois Bicentennial. The first featured Judy Joseph and Ken Breisford; the second presented the Loretta Ruzik dancers and the third featured Gus Giordano.

Charge Man With Theft Of Clothing

A Chicago man was charged with theft Friday night after he allegedly took some 560 worth of clothing from the Zag department store, 727 W. Golf, Des Plaines.

Police said Julius P. Puentes, 28, was stopped by Zare security guards and left the store with the merchandise. Another man who was with Puentes reportedly fled in a 1962 Plymouth.

Puentes' Circuit Court date was set for Jan. 20. After posting his $1,000 bond, Puentes was picked up by Chicago police carrying with a theft of clothing from Goodbrand department store at Chicago Ave. and Ashland.

Assigned Here

William J. Bowen, Jr., of 813 S. Emerson St., Mount Prospect, has returned from Alaska, after completing the final week of Shell Oil Corp.'s marketing training course and has been assigned as a similar sales representative in the Mount Prospect area.

Dyan Cannon repeated her Broadway role in "The Ninety-Days' Mistress." The production was a Chicago debut.

FOUR STARS made stage debuts at Pheasant Run this year. Ron E. Galt in "Fie!" Ann Miller played her first commercial role in "Old Tidings" and Walter

Two Routes Urged For Road Curve

By Joe Weiss

Further routes for an "S" curve connecting the disputed sections of Arlington Heights Rd. at Dundee Rd. were unveiled during a meeting of the Village Planning Commission last night.

Two plans were submitted, one on either side of Dundee Rd. The northern route passes through land owned by High School District 214 and the southern route passes through existing 20-year-old homes.

Commissioner James Ryan reported on a meeting with Buffalo Grove representative Edward Fabbro, Ken Tucker from Kenney Builders, Edward Gilbert, superintendent of District 214, and John Best, village planning engineer.

Ryan said that Gilbert opposes a highway interchange which would see construction of a school within three years.

The 40-acre tract owned by the district would, at best, be divided into a 30-acre parcel of land south of the proposed "S" curve and a 10-acre parcel north of it, according to Ryan. Commissioner Ronald Kirk suggested that the land be used jointly by deepening the highway.

Ryan replied that the cost probably would be prohibitive, but that he did not have cost figures.

RIBA also opposed the highway would be a natural divider when the school is built and take the 10-acre north section could be used for a stadium or gym.

Ryan said that Gilbert opposes to this idea and favors keeping the 40-acre tract intact.

tion on land owned by Kennedy Builders. Ryan said that Ken Tucker, representing Kenney Builders, is "violently opposed" to receiving traffic away from his proposed service station, which the route bisecting high school property would do.

Nine residents of an incorporated area immediately south of the school property and south of Dundee Rd. were present at the meeting. The southern "S" curve would go through homes in that area.

Because the "S" curve is still in the discussion stage, Ryan said he was not about to present an exact route for the 100-foot wide right of way would require.

He will present a map of the maximum limit of the southern route at the adjourned hearing's next session on Feb. 22.

Edward Semmon, 3234 N. Arlington Heights Rd., asked the commission if the road, expressway would be extended into the same land that the "S" curve would use.

RIBA REPLIED that the study of the expressway was confined to a mile either side of Dundee Rd. and that this area was divided in half by Ryan said it could affect the curve.

Charles Fred Amis, 4401 homeowner Richard Sackett about his feelings on having the road run through his property. Sackett said that he would be willing if he were left with a 10-acre area, but would be rendered practically useless.

Ryan reported that Tucker said that frontage on the "S" curve would increase land values.

Thieves Take Cash, Accessories

Burglar broke a plate glass window of an Arlington Heights service station sometime early Wednesday morning, and escaped with more than $125 in cash and other accessories.

Police said Jack's Texaco station, 6 W. Golf, lost to the thieves, and from the cash register, a push-button starter and a meter used for testing auto engines.

Pair Begins 22,000 - Mile Show Tour Here Tonight

By Joe Weiss

Bruce Yarnall, singer, writer and television actor, and John Denver, a pianist with experience in drama, begin a three month tour here tonight which will take them 22,000 miles from coast to coast and into Canada.

Yarnall said he is seeking to avoid the standard recital fare. He termed his approach "the art of the singing actor," which he based on the premise that an actor must be able to sing as well. He sees both types of performers as essentially storytellers.

The modern actor needs the different techniques required to perform the variety of music today yet alone book through time, Yarnall said.

THE PROGRAM tonight is composed of songs from today's and yesterday's repertoire, from Handel to Leonard Bernstein.

One section of the program concerns the relationship between William Shakespeare and those who have drawn inspiration from him for opera, musical comedy and "hard rock" musicals.

Yarnall sees this departure from the usual as entertainment blended with culture, an educational experience.

The idea for such a show began last February and gradually took shape over four months ago when intense preparations started, according to Yarnall.

Two incumbents and a third Arlington Heights resident have filed for library board position.

The board's president, Mrs. Florence Higginson, and Frances Higgins, 1025 N. Gibson, have previously filed for a place on the library board ballot.

INCUMBENT Richard Friesel filed his petition for reelection.

Mrs. Higginson said she was running for the board because she didn't want to "perpetuate myself in office." She is looking for third terms.

Many people came to me and said I should not become a part of the library," I saw the new building put up and have followed the library for several years."

She added that her husband said the library was "my life."

3 Hopefuls So Far Seek Library Seats

'You've worked on it for many years, why stop now?' She said the wanted to see new faces on the board, but I don't think I will be able to do that job.

When a new man wants the job, he can quit it."

She emphasized that the presidency of the board was not a position of prestige or recognition.

Yarnall, seeking his first year four term after being on the board for three years, said the unexpected term of a library board member was assigned, said he was running again because of the "saturation of the board."

"THERE IS a lot of satisfaction on my part in seeing program develop and knowing you had a part in it."

He said the building of the new library had been "greatly exciting, but we had other problems to be solved now, like the shortage of books in the library."

Higgins, the wife of the Friends of the Memorial Library, said he was seeking a place on the board because he feels he "can be effective there."

The new Higgins is seeking to enter into being after the state legislature passed a law requiring an equal number of women on the board. The new board now has six members, but will have seven after this year's election.

Cold, Cool World

A Ham Casserole That's Ready in Minutes

By Charlotte Erickson

Just to make everyone else feel better, I feel compelled to share this experience with you.

Last week we had invited another family and their children for Sunday evening supper. This started out as one of my better days with everything well organized.

The kitchen had been shared with what and Kirk and only needed to be heated. The master of our household had mixed some refreshments and I had lighted the burner under the fondue pot. It was supposed to be the only one.

UNDAUNTED, I opened cans and fixed another set of refreshments. I carried into the living room with a PRODIGE. At just this time the children called in all to look at the "very important" one which was all properly left for the family room to see.

Remember that leftover turkey, as well as chicken. Now that the holidays are over and we've all let our belts out another notch, I'll share this low-calorie Hot Chicken Salad with you.

Viator Tankers Swallow Knights, 72-23

The St. Viator swimmer headed Prospect a 2-23 defeat Wednesday. Ric Lynch, Bill Galar, Steve Salerno and Chris O'Hara were outstanding for the Knights, losing two meet spots.

The swimmer began things for St. Viator by finishing nearly eight minutes ahead of the Knight. Galar, O'Hara, Ed Martin and Dan Maguire contributed their talents to the win.

LYNCH SCORED the first of his two victories in the 200-yard freestyle, coming in with a 2:23. Galar, Steve Salerno and Chris O'Hara were outstanding for the Knights, losing two meet spots.

One of the meet's most exciting races featured Jim Young of Prospect and Bill McCaffrey of St. Viator in the 200 individual medley.

PROSPECT ENJOYED two-event winning streak, as Dave Smith defeated Jeff Foley 53.5-51.7. Bill Costello took third for St. Viator.

MAIN got things back on the right track by adding numerous Dan Maguire for first place in the 100 butterfly. Mike Adkins came in a close third.

LYNCH got his second win in the 100 freestyle. Rene Evans of Prospect came in ahead of the Swallow. Jim Fitzsimmons for second.

SOPHOMORE BILL Costello made the St. Viator team and posted record in the 100 backstroke in an excellent 1:04.4. Belts was second for the Knights in the 100 backstroke.

EVERYONE in the pool area, fans and swimmers alike, was waiting for the Young-McCaffrey rematch in the 200 freestyle.

AL KENNEY followed McCaffrey's victory with one of his own in the 100 breaststroke. Al made it no contest as he stroked home in 1:10.7. Ed Martin had a 1:12.2 for second and Prospect's Tom Vikander placed third.

THE 400 freestyle relay finished a first that the Knights won at Salorno, Fremont, Abate and with a 4:04.8. The next encounter for Charles Mohd's St. Viator squad is Saturday, Jan. 11, when they host St. Ignace at 2:30 p.m. The Knights have a meet tomorrow at Elmhurst Park at 8:30 p.m.

Good seasonal performance, but this time McCaffrey was the winner. Although it was secondary to the race itself, McCaffrey obliterated the old record of 4:33.1 with a sparkling 4:13.1. John Driscoll finished an unmetted third for St. Viator.

Below — Jim Young, Prospect's star medleyist, was second in Viator's Bill McCaffrey in the 200. The 400 IM, but Young then turned the tables and beat the river in the 200 IM with a time of 2:18.1.

'Critical' Game Situation In Offing When Huskies Visit Knights Tomorrow

By Linda Hoffman

Sports Editor

Prospect and Hersey enter into competition tomorrow night which is crucial for both teams as the winner will advance themselves to the 100-mile and the other will fall to just about a practice.

Both squads are expected to make a three-way tie for sixth place in the Mid-Suburban League, owning 1-2.

PROSPECT WILL have to be favored in the contest as the Knights' home game because of their pre-game routine, against one of the powers of the northwest.

Hersey coach Rog Steinlager tends to agree that the Knights will have the advantage tomorrow. "I would have been optimistic had we won Saturday night against Sheverson. We had a lot of loose ends to tie up before then. I don't think we'll get them all worked out in that one game."

"I would be surprised at this point if we say in the game," said a wary Steinlager.

But Prospect coach Don Anselmi says that the game will be far from a game for his Knights. "We don't have a game that you can win, but we have a game that you can lose, bringing out the fact that they were within two points of Coum."

THE KNIGHTS just pulled out a two-point victory against the Cougars the week before Hersey played them.

Steinlager also pointed out that the Knights' goal is to win a league championship. They have had one. Sitting in last place and not too happy about it makes Anselmi's perspective dangerous. "They have experience and tradition behind them," commented Steinlager.

Although Prospect has had the season they have seen in previous seasons, Steinlager notes that as a coach, "I expect them to pull out of a pretty good."

"They don't seem to have the rebounding strength they've had in past years," said Steinlager. "But they have some good outside shots. In Bruce Smith, Scott Crawford and Dave Schmitt."

They will be the starters along with Bob Rasmussen at center and Dave Lundquist at point for the forward.

FOR HERSEY, Steinlager will go with either Steve Toffey or Don Syer at point, Steve Toffey at center, Scott Fager at the other forward and guard. Dick Powell and Bruce Fries. In addition, he will have two sharpshooters sitting on the bench in the game.

Little Jacoby, who played a little last week, is "a quick as a flash," according to Steinlager, and a very fine shot.

"Jacoby was a little jittery in his first game, but he made the first basket he attempted," said his coach. Jacoby was injured for the first part of the season and has just recently returned to practice.

Also likely to lead support is John Durso who can shoot well and plays a dependable defense game.

"We have eight first-timers and they all play," said Steinlager.

PROSPECT'S BENCH will have a couple of players who can come into the game at any time. First in line is probably Jim Smith who didn't travel with the team to Prospect, but who has bounced into every game so far and has proven one of the better guards on the squad.

Also reliable are Steve Grant, a good shot and steady shooter, and for the fancy-dribbling Dave Kallman, and tough under-the-rim Steve Schmidt.

The Knights and the Huskies may just need all these players tomorrow night because both have found themselves deep in foul trouble.

And they have had the stances where they have been in the past. From the field, but given up enough points on fouls to lose a game.

OFFENSIVE AND defensive games may also be a question for the two teams. Hersey usually goes with a full-court press, if they play momentum, they'll use a full-court press, said Steinlager. "If we use a zone, it'll be a V offense which is flared at the basket and lets them take outside shots."

Anselmi said that if Hersey continues their press, Prospect will use a zone to bring the ball up court. "If they press, we won't be able to play a full-court press," said Steinlager.

The press doesn't bother us though," continued Anselmi. "We'll just shoot when we get the ball up court."

Anselmi said that what Hersey has that will hurt the Knights is "their defense and rebounding skill."

THE GAME promises to be a battle and both coaches are hopeful of keeping their teams in the game to take this win. There may be a lot of foul trouble for Prospect.

Jim Smith, convicted Steinlager, who is thinking of substituting an "inner" player for those who don't foul. "I Hersey will need another non-offensive foul for Steinlager.

FURTHER COMPLICATING the Vikings' task of trying to stay in the meet with the state champions, Walthouse is going all in to make sure the Cougars don't slip up.

WE'VE ALWAYS had a conflict between left and right-handed bowlers, but Dave, to me, seems to be one of the best because he's able to move.

He can play the third arrow, second arrow, what have you. But he's been having trouble. I think it's the result of the arm swing and the bow. Dave has been working on his arm swing and I think he's going to be working on hand positions, too."

Up 'N' Comers Challenge Established Prospectors In Gym Battle Tonight

Two state-raised gymnastics squads will meet tonight at Prospect High School and close their season. At least that's what both coaches say. Prospect ranked sixth and Hersey ranked 14th.

Knight coach Rich Chaves, "I would say it looks good for us. It will be a close meet."

SAYS DON VON EBERS, head man of the up-and-coming Hersey squad, "It looks like it will be a close meet. It could go either way, but I'm looking left to take it."

"I think we'll take the meet because of depth," said Chaves. But they'd be going to be real tough.

"They have outstanding individuals but whether they will be enough to beat us is another question," continued the Prospect coach. Hersey is definitely a 90-point team, but we're showing for over 100 points."

"I don't think we're come around yet," added Chaves. But I think this meet will tip our hat."

View their counters with a good practice and strong individuals. We're still very young and learning very rapidly. Our routines have not been set up to now, but today they did exceptionally well so far in going through full routines."

"I UNDERSTAND Prospect is a come pretty good young squad," continued the Prospect coach. Hersey is definitely a 90-point team, but we're showing for over 100 points."

We have a new man, Ron Schenck, who took second place in the Come meet in free exercise," said the optimistic Von Ebers.

The Hersey coach also has a new man, Gary Sharpe, who point-gate last year in a Come meet."

Jim Brousseau, the co-captain of state-ranked Arlington High School gymnastics team, took third place in the highly-touted West region Invitational last weekend and has accordingly earned the Day's Athlete of the Week Award.

Brousseau is raised third in the state from last year's state meet on the horizontal bar, and he has worked as an all-around man both last season and this.

ARLINGTON GYMNASIAC coach Tom Walthouse had something to say about the all-around event.

"If a boy picks up a clatter and plays it well, you would say he is really good, but if that boy can also play the violin, and then he plays the saxophone and the drums, you know he's got real talent. It's like that in the all-around event," said Walthouse.

Walthouse had the highest of praise for the co-captain of his squad, which looks to be even better than last year's state champion.

Walthouse said that he thinks that the all-around event are the best on the team, and he feels that Brousseau is one of the finest all-arounders in the state.

"WHEN HE HURTS him two weeks before the Everett meet, it kept him out of the Maine East Invitational, but he worked out on his own volition. Even though he was in pain, I think you'd call that phenomenal fortitude." Walthouse went on to say he's a good worker and he's got the talent. In addition, he helps the younger kids out as a student leader and they all look up to him.

"He's degradable here's always at practice, and he works hard when he's here," said the Arlington gym coach.

BROUSSEAU PLACED second on the high bar in the shorter contest last year, and was third in the state meet. He was also the Mid-South League horizontal bar champion.

This year, the muscled gymnast is medaled on the horizontal bar, and has only been beaten once, in the Everett Invitational, with his parallel bar routine.

WALTHOUSE said Brousseau's got to be wonderful marks and added in his routine this year, and I think he should place high in the conference, district and state meets on both the horizontal bar and the p-bars.

THE ARRLINGTON COACH is setting up the talents of his co-captain and all-around man when he said. He's the nucleus of our team.

Brousseau was not the sole nominee for this week's award; other nominees were Mike Eysch, who has been turning in a consistent pair of firsts for the St. Vrain team in every meet; and Bobby Hendrick, who was in the state for skating junior first held at Northbrook Sunday as a member of the Mount Prospect Skating Club by taking two first places in his class, qualifying him for the state junior championship.

Gym Winners Meet Tonight At Wheeling

Forest View will host Wheeling in a Mid-South gymnastics battle tonight at 7 p.m.

Both teams will enter the competition with undefeated league records, and the winner will emerge in a tie with Arlington for the top spot in the nation's number one conference.

THE FALCONS, however seem to have the edge according to both team coaches. "Wheeling is lacking in depth this year," said FV's coach, Guy Hughes. "If we beat them it's because they're very weak."

"I think we've improved."

and Wheeling's coach Wayne Selvig, "but not sufficiently enough to take Forest View." Wheeling lost a number of gymnasts in Hersey in the last year.

"Forest View has good balance," continued Selvig. "I think that FV is the second best team in the conference."

"WE'LL BE strong on the rings," said Selvig. "Bobby Hendrick will probably take that event. Cliff Hoffman should be strong on the side horse, but our problem is that our second and third men are weak."

Falcon Ray Stankina is out with an injury and will not see action tonight, however Norm Olsen will return to participate after being out over the Christmas holidays, according to coach Hughes.

Forest View has been successful over Hersey and Elk Grove and has a five meet winning record. Wheeling has taken Patience and Glen-Hard for their two conference wins, however, the Wildcats also won at least a night victory over the Falcons in the result of last Saturday's Washington Invitational. Wheeling topped Forest View this year in the two come in ninth and fifth.

Two-Way Downtown Traffic Flow Approved by Trustees

By Barry Petersen

Isolated approval of a one-way street plan for downtown Arlington Heights was given last night during a meeting of the village board with representatives of the consulting firm of De Leuw, Cather & Co.

Four village board of trustee members and representatives of the chamber of commerce met to investigate in greater detail the first of three plans the consultants submitted for study last month and report back to the village after endorsing the plan.

The first plan would have turned a two-way street and have traffic flow north from Sigwalt to Eastman, and Evergreen south from Evergreen to Sigwalt. Arlington Heights Rd. would remain unaffected.

CAMPBELL AND Eastman would be one-way streets and have traffic flow north from Sigwalt to Eastman, and Evergreen south from Evergreen to Sigwalt. Arlington Heights Rd. would remain unaffected.

Traverse Lakby Bressler and Francois Palmerat called for immediate implementation of a one-way pattern after sufficient study to insure its success.

"We need to go as soon as we can accommodate the road situation," said Bressler, adding, "a lot of study had been done on a North Western street, but it was not a one-way pattern, not to solve long-term problems, but for immediate help."

Bressler wanted that one-way street would not be in the village, but in the adjacent town of Wheeling.

"But," he said, "we might substantially improve on the way we have now."

BRESSLER questioned the possible loss of parking space in a one-way pattern in the village. He said that the forward looking things Village has sponsored, the idea of building the highway with sufficient clearance, especially from homes where they did not wish to have their streets removed from their yards.

HE PRESENTED his plan to the Assembly and won approval. Like many of the forward looking things Village has sponsored, the idea of building the highway with sufficient clearance, especially from homes where they did not wish to have their streets removed from their yards.

HE WAS A member of the Arlington Heights in 1968. He said that the village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966.

De Leuw, Cather & Co. representative Marvin Wood reported that one-way streets might be better off in the future improvements on downtown traffic.

"We're not getting this thing done last year," he said. "The village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966."

Though the land annexed to Arlington Heights in 1968 is half that annexed in 1966, the village said for apartments and commercial buildings, including a hotel, a shopping center, and a school.

Actual building follows plans submitted for the complete development of property in 1966, the village said. Four years after annexation, and in the case of industrial property, the village said.

started, Bressler said, "that what happens if we spend money on the project and then put it in the other improvements?" He asked, "How much of their money might be used to develop the project?" Bressler said.

Mayor John Woods said the cost of one-way streets would not be prohibitive, and the "cost" in thousands of dollars probably would be well spent if it solved the problem even temporarily.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager Harold Bressler presented a statement to the board endorsing the plan favored by the trustees but adding the chamber wants more parking before the plan is put into effect.

"As previously stated," said the statement, issued by the Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday, "the Chamber of Commerce favors the adoption of a one-way street system only after the required additional parking space is made available."

Albert F. Volz Cited By General Assembly

By Richard Cough

Albert F. Volz, a community leader in the northwest suburbs for 60 years and credited by many with being the "father" of the Northwest Hwy, was honored Wednesday by the Illinois General Assembly.

A resolution passed at the final session of the 1969 Assembly in Springfield cited Volz, 64, of Northbrook, Arlington Heights, for his part in the building of the highway and his continuing participation in its political process.

The resolution was sponsored by Rep. Eugene P. Schickman (R-Arlington Heights). Volz will receive an official commendation from Springfield.

VOLZ, WHO IS 97 and believed to be the oldest resident of Wheeling Township, was unaware of the session called Wednesday by Mrs. David Daniels, a longtime friend. Like many others this winter, Volz has been ill with the flu.

Volz was a resident of Arlington Heights before the village was given its present name. He remembers when it was known as Danston.

The first national political campaign in which he took a leave interest was that of Ben

Albert F. Volz

Volz was mayor of Arlington Heights on two different occasions. During one of his terms, he presided over the building of the highway which was used until the present Municipal Building was erected there. The village had stood on the site of the new law department across from the Arlington Heights Post Office. Volz also served as village trustee.

Volz was a member of the Arlington Heights in 1968. He said that the village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966, the village had been in the village since 1966.

Wednesday Is School Stamp Day

Every Wednesday is Stamp Day at the Juliette Low School. Enthusiastic children form long lines to purchase 10 and 25 cent U. S. Savings Stamps.

The program started through the efforts of Mrs. Harlan Kabel and Mrs. Joseph Voffi, has been eagerly accepted by the children and each week they bring their money for the type of stamp they are saving. Mrs. Kabel began promoting the idea before school opened in September. Principal Earl Wadley gave his approval and the details were soon worked out.

At a P.T.C. meeting the program was explained to parents and the value of collecting the children to save. Mrs. Voffi said, "We stress with the children that they are helping the government work for peace and for themselves as well."

After their stamp books are filled, they can be redeemed for 10¢ U. S. Savings Bonds Series E which will be worth $25 in seven years. The books can be taken to the post office or bank for redemption.

The supporters of the program hope all the schools in the district will begin selling savings stamps.

It is great for the kids and great for the government, too," said Mrs. Verdi.

Family Project A House for Cindy

BY RYAN SCHNEIDER

A doll house made with love and ingenuity was created by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilgus of Arlington Heights. As a special gift for their seven-year-old granddaughter, Cindy, the handy couple worked together and finished the house in time for Christmas.

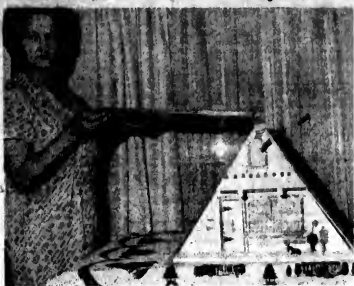

Wilgus built the walls and roof of plywood, hanging the roof so it can be lifted for placing the furniture inside.

"I NEVER show anything away without first thinking of how I could make something out of it," said Mrs. Wilgus. She used scraps of carpeting for the floor; at the used wallpaper scraps for the walls.

Small boxes, covered with fabric made beds, egg cartons furnished the chairs, and a small plastic box with a picture in it even provided the TV set.

She used jewelry for chandeliers and aluminum foil for kitchen utensils. The only thing she bought was the figures themselves, which are tinclies.

Cindy was wide-eyed and speechless when she saw "her house," said Mrs. Wilgus. It was well worth all the work.

Mrs. Wilgus holds the biggest roof of the doll house. A 'tinclie' figure sits on a plastic box which is the TV set.

Riley's CORNER FOR FUN

Evan's Restaurant, in Mt. Prospect has added something new for their luncheon & dinner crowd. You can now enjoy a relaxing cocktail with your meals or a good old beer!

THE THREE TWINS

Soon because there is not too many like them that add, "Good comedy with good music these days."

Some of us remember the original "Dynamite," consisting of Bill Stubby-Sax, Steve Strick-Drum, and Frank Algorge-Accordion. This well known Chicago Trio is now playing opposite "Tony Scott," at the Four Horsemen Show Lounge. "They're Good!"

CONNIE & JERRY "K"

The Seven Counties Restaurant in Wheeling certainly offers dinner guests just what the name hints. You can take your pick of seven different rooms with two counties' decorative surroundings to drink. I won't elaborate, and you will be surprised. "The food is excellent."

Why not see a good play now! The Blackstone Theatre has Forest Tucker & Betty Owen, in "PLAZA SUITE."

Appearing at the SHUBERT is a real winner, "CABARET." And at the Teubel Theatre is "VALMONT EAST." All three of these shows are very interesting.

"See you next Friday, Albee!"

Arlington Heights New Construction at Record in 1968

By Richard Crohn

New construction in Arlington Heights during 1968 jumped $15 million dollars over the 1967 record of $60 million, registering the largest yearly gain ever recorded in the village. Herold Best, Arlington Heights building director, predicted that new construction during 1969 in the village will equal the $75 million record established in 1968.

Best said, "I expect 1969 new construction in the village to equal the record level of 1968. The total in 1969 might even establish another new record."

The record new construction is more than a report on buildings permitted and building expenditures. The kinds of new buildings put up in 1968 is an accurate index of the way in which the village is developing, according to Best. Here are the major developments:

HOME BUILDING-- Permits were issued for 768 new homes in Arlington Heights. The number compares to 716 single family residences permitted issued in 1966 and is only 18 short of the all-time record of 806 established in 1967. Arlington Heights led all towns in Illinois except Joliet in the fifth consecutive year in the building of new homes.

APARTMENT BUILDING RECORD-- As Best predicted at the beginning of the year, a new apartment building record was established.

The highest number of units built before was 950 in 1966. The record now stands at 1,000 in 1968. The total number of homes and apartments established in 1968 is 1,768, about 2,351 above the previous record.

The total cost of new apartment construction in 1968 is $1,225,000, only $2,500,000 less than the total spent on single family residences. In 1967, apartment investments in the village totaled only $4,347,000. The increase in apartment building largely accounted for the booming 1968 new construction record.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDING-- The $15.5 million building permit for the Minneapolis-Mears well company on Dundee Rd. in the northeastern section of the village is the largest for an industrial structure ever to be planned in Arlington Heights.

Some 2,000 persons are to be employed there when the building is opened to use in 1970. The total of new industrial construction in 1968 was $4,155,000, compared with only $400,000 in 1967.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION-- Construction of new school buildings in 1968 totaled $3,075,000 as compared with $7,087,000 in 1967. The higher total in 1967 was due largely to the construction of John Jay High School on Willow St. This year's smaller total included the Brand Junior High School and the Elm Avenue grade school building in the north section of the village.

HURC CONSTRUCTION-- A new construction in 1968 totaled $1,778,000, compared with $380,000 in 1967. The total included new churches and additions to others.

A new church, the Lutheran at 320 W. Golf Rd., Arlington Country Club at 716 E. Hill Rd. and Evangelical First Church on S. Belmont St. S. James built a $600,000 addition to the St. James School during the year.

HOUSES IN 1968-- Best expects that there will be about 600 new homes built in Arlington Heights during 1969.

The leading home in 1968 was the Berkley Square subdivision, with more than 200 new homes. Berkley Square could build that many or more new homes in 1969.

and again be the leading new home builder in the village. The Miller Builders with its John Jay High School subdivisions in the south part of the village and a large block of land in the north and of the village Elm Avenue grade school building. New homes will be built in 1969 in Ivy Hill in the north end of the village and in Golden Acres in the southern section of the village.

APARTMENT BUILDING IN 1968-- Best expects to see the 1968 record for apartment units broken in 1969. There could be a typical year, a typical year.

More units built this year. Building of new apartments is to take place both in the north and south sections of the village.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDING IN 1968-- There will be no major industrial construction in 1969 in Arlington Heights. No new units will compare with the big Minneapolis-Mears complex of 1968. Best predicts there will be a number of new plants going into the industrial park at Arlington Heights Rd. and Dundee Rd.

SCHOOL BUILDING IN 1968-- There will be no major school construction in 1969 in Arlington Heights. No new units will compare with the big Minneapolis-Mears complex of 1968. Best predicts there will be a number of new plants going into the industrial park at Arlington Heights Rd. and Dundee Rd.

Wintertime Can Cause You to 'Catch Heat'

In your heating system, making waves? Do you find that you cannot make heat when you are alone?

If so, you may be "catching heat" and not a cold, says the Chicago Better Heating-Cooling Council, the area's information center of the hydronic (modern hot water) heating industry.

Many allergy sufferers find that their nasal passages are more irritated during the winter, and their discomfort may have nothing to do with the weather. It may be caused by their heating system.

Due to a prime cause of nasal irritation, and the heating system of your home may be spreading dust around the house while it distributes the heat. To an allergy sufferer, dust moving through the air can be as irritating as salt to an open cut. One way to solve this problem, according to the council, is to install a modern hydronic heating system which circulates heated water through white-height baseboard panels located all around the house.

Since this is a sealed system, it doesn't require fans or blowers. Heat is spread naturally by the natural circulation of air. Because the panels are low in height, the floors are kept warm.

If you still believe you are installing hydronic, adds the council, see your doctor. You may be catching cold.
